Come over to my desk. I have brownies.

Do you have enough tattoos?

I'll get temporary ones, and change them every week.

The possibilities are endless!

"I'm putting your name right here, buddy. I'm going to remember you."

or

"Hey, what happened to your tattoo? It was different last week."
"Oh no! Not again! *whap* Get it off me!"

I can totally see you. Big leather jacket, with puppies in all the pockets.

Sounds like a nice job, doesn't it?

 trollcatz on August 25th, 2008 06:34 pm (UTC)
Well, except for the days when it's sort of like being in an episode of "Animal Cops" in which the pit bull puppies are starving and two-thirds of the cats have to be euthanized.

But yeah, even on those days, it would feel like making the world a better place.

...Less than two years to retirement, huh?

As provided by 5 U.S.C. 8335 and 8425, incumbents of positions approved for LEO coverage under CSRS or FERS who are otherwise eligible for immediate LEO retirement shall be separated from the service on the last day of the month in which the LEO becomes 57 years of age or completes 20 years of LEO service if then over that age.

They still kick you out at 57. I guess it's time to start figuring out what I want to be when I grow up.

Unless El Supremo decides he can't spare you. In which case, you magically become 55 forever.

If I have to be something forever, 42 would be nice.

Why not 29? It's traditional.

You're gonna grow up???

I thought they were just gonna make you retire! What kind of evil, Pan-forsaken bureaucracy makes people grow up at 57?

(Reply) (Parent) (Thread) (Link)

ace\_cub\_reportr on August 27th, 2008 06:26 am (UTC)
It does seem arbitrary. Not to mention hasty.

Your lucky if it's only starving. My wife is an ACO, the things people do to animals . . .

Sometimes humans suck.

For dead links in Oregon?

Sorry bout that. Some dweeb broke into a pound and removed 8 pups. 4 have since been found beaten & dead on the side of the highway. The newspaper linked apparently doesn't keep the pages up.

Don't you already have cute, cuddly critters keeping you company? I recall seeing you post on Platypus's site forever ago that you got fish.

I keep a freshwater aquarium. Fish are restful! They're good for your blood pressure! They're serene!

Okay, they're bloodthirsty little monsters who will eat each other's eyes if you give them half a chance, but I like them.

Not at all. My sister is a paragon of every virtue, a veritable Hestia and Venus rolled into one impeccable form.

And she'd pull my hair out by the roots if I said anything different. Also, I might not get any cookies.

So when am I penciled in, he who claims he can be trusted?

I figured I'd be inappropriate over at your place, where you don't have to be so charmingly charming...

And don't panic, I can't give chase. Just entice from a safe distance.
